Summary

As a Musician and a deep thinker, I am always exploring the world and looking for knowledge. I've always had a passion for technology and recently decided to take my interests to the next level. Music is about playing the right combination of notes at the right time, and programming is very similar to this. Putting everything together in the right place enables us to build powerful, harmonious applications. I am currently finishing the Web Development course at General Assembly and currently looking for a full time position in Seattle.

Education

General Assembly, Web Development Immersive
In-Depth Coding, Information Technology

2014 - 2015

I Learned how to build real world examples of responsive web applications from industry experts. My First app was a solo Node project using Leaflet maps that enables a search for international country data. In a group project, I helped create Seahawkcity.com, that was built in Rails with Google maps and enables users to take images of 12th man flags and post them to the map. They can also view football events around the city. My final project was a Node app that is an e-commerce watch consignment store where users can post and sell their own collection.

Work Experience

Ashford.com
Sales Manager/Product Specialist

2008 – 2014

Responsible for the entire sales inbox while answering steady inbound/outbound phone calls all day. Trained all agents in sales and product knowledge. Built a portfolio of repeat clients with annual sales of more than $5 Million. Built Excel spreadsheets to work with the main brand managers on wholesale deals. Assisted in marketing strategies meetings and e-commerce meetings. Was one of the top 'know-it-alls' of the industry in the company.
